R. A. MONTGOMERY is an avid outdoorsman. He has hiked in the Himalayas, climbed mountains in Europe, scuba-dived in Central America, and sailed in Franco-phone Africa. He has lived in France, travels frequently to Asia, and calls Vermont home. His interests include macroeconomics, geo-politics, mythology, history, mystery novels, and music. He has two grown sons, a daughter-in-law, and two granddaughters.

This book is adorable. I purchased it for my 9 year old son and he was entertained for a bit but he said all the options pretty much led to the same conclusions. I was hoping it would have been a bit more involved like the Choose Your Own Adventure books I grew up reading. Overall, it was a cute book but meant more for younger kids.

I got this for my son's 6th birthday. He likes it so much that he wanted to read it before going to school today. He has never asked that of any book before. Not only is it about a robot, but it also has pirates! He's finishing Kindergarten and can read it on his own, with some help.

High interest with my 4th grade students who are reading below grade level, they are reading this book and want more that are similar.

My son loves these books! I wish they were a little longer just because my 7 year old reads at such a high level but he really enjoys having his own adventure and wants me to buy all of them at this point! Great gift.

Funny early reader. My 5 year old grandson enjoyed me reading this to him. and Choose your own adventure is always great!!

The story lasts all about 6 pages. Back in my day, it was a lot longer than that.

My soon to be 8 year old (2nd grader) loves these books. I have never seen him just sit and read books like this. The words that are used are great for early readers. He loves how he can pick where to go in the book.

My 8-year really enjoys these books. To me this writing style isn't that great but as long as my son likes it and wants to read it I'm happy.
