Wide Neighborhoods: A Story Of The Frontier Nursing Service

Synopsis

"The autobiography of Mary Breckinridge, the remarkable founder of the Frontier Nursing Service. Riding out on horseback, the FNS nurse-midwives, the first of their profession in this country, proved that high mortality rates and malnutrition need not be the norm in rural areas. By their example and through their graduates, the FNS has exacted a lasting influence on family health care throughout the world."

Good story, but very slow read. I was hoping for more about the US. Not so much interested in the lengthy narration of her training in Europe.

Not everyone will appreciate "Wide Neighborhoods" as much as I do. After sleeping in Mary's bed at Wendover (now a Bed & Breakfast). And after spending a month working at the Hyden Hospital. And after seeing patients at the Red Bird Outpost. And hiking the Mountain Trails--and spotting a copperhead snake. No, not everyone will want to buy 5 copies as I have: One for my niece, one for a friend in Australia, one for a church member keen on Kentucky history, another as a gift to a Breckinridge family member--AND one to keep and read & re-read. --Dr. Bob Fascinating part of history.

This is the story of my family heritage, being served by the Frontier Nurses, in the mountains of eastern Kentucky. My mother told stories of their riding boots and horses. I have underlined the names of my family for my children to read. How blessed from God, for Mary and her vision.

I loved this book, a reprint of the personal memoir of the founder of America's Frontier Nursing Service. It's great that a book which has been out of print for many years is available again!

Adventurous and Spiritual uplifting biography of Mary Breckenridge as she shares stories of developing the first Nurse Midwifery School in America.

Wonderful story that should be in every school. Our children should be learning our U.S. History and the wonderful people that have advanced our nation in every field.

Wonderful information on Mary Breckinridge and midwifery !
