You know you're in Michigan when a piston isn't always under the hood of your car. . . pasties are something you eat. . . youse meet da yooperMichigan has its own view of the world. Look through that lens and learn 101 quintessential people, places, events, eats, and traditions that help form the personality of the Great Lakes State. You'll find out about people who are Pistons, what to do when someone offers your mother a pasty, and why residents of the Upper Peninsula are called Yoopers. Whether you're a first-time visitor or a born-and-bred native, this book will make you smile as you discover what it really means to be in Michigan.

Colleen Burcar has worked in radio, television, and newspapers for many years and her voice continues to be heard on commercials across the country. She now works in media consulting and public relations. The mother of a daughter, Kimberly, Colleen currently resides in suburban Detroit with her husband, Bryan Becker, and toy poodle, Chloe. She is the coauthor of Michigan Curiosities.

If you've always lived in Michigan or are a new resident you'll love this book. Being a native of Michigan I learned some new things about my state, and was amused by the things I was familiar with. If you love Michigan, you'll love this quick read.

The book was fun to read and brings back memories to someone who left the state some 30 years ago.
